Introduction

The Level 2 Certificate in Understanding the Risks of Cyberbullying when Using Online and Social Media Platforms was developed in response to the worldwide social media safety problem, its aim is to raise awareness of the security and safeguarding risks of using online resources.

An introduction to keeping safe online topics include: risks to personal information when online, risks of online communication and interaction, particularly social media networks, awareness of different types of cyber bullying, grooming and exploitation techniques, the role that teachers, parents and other play in keeping children and young people safe when online, supporting victims of cyber bullying

The awarding organisation for this qualification is ProQual Awarding Body and the regulatory body is the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual). The specification for these qualifications has been approved by the Welsh Government for use by centres in Wales and by the Council for the Curriculum Examinations and Assessment (CCEA) for use by centres in Northern Ireland.

This qualification has been accredited onto the Qualifications and Credit Framework (QCF).

Qualifications and Credit Framework (QCF)

The key features of the QCF are that all qualifications consist of a combination of one or more units, each of which has a level and a credit value. Achievement of units of QCF credit can be banked in a national database and may count towards more than one qualification according to rules of combination.

The level of a qualification is determined by the level of the majority of credit in the units that make it up.

A credit is equivalent to 10 notional learning hours. A unit may be worth any whole number of credits. A qualification is called an Award if it includes up to 12 credits, a Certificate if it includes 13 - 36 credits and a Diploma if it includes 37 credits or more.

The terms Award, Certificate and Diploma refer only to size of qualification, and have no bearing on the level or contents of the qualification.

Each unit is allocated a number of Guided Learning Hours (GLH) which gives an indication of the approximate number of hours when a trainer/tutor/teacher/assessor is available to give specific guidance towards the learning aim being met.
